MRS. CHECKS IMPROVING.

Rests Easily After 150 Mile Motor Trip and Operation.

Mrs. Emma Van Cleaf Checks of 285 St. John's place, Brooklyn, who while seriously ill, traveled 150 miles by automobile to undergo an operation at the Long Island College Hospital in Brooklyn, was reported yesterday to be resting easily and moving after the ordeal. Mrs. Checks is the wife of William C. Checks, who is in the bonding business at 120 Broadway, Manhattan. Her first husband, the late John Conover Van Cleaf, was for thirty-nine years proprietor of the Mansion House in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Checks spent the summer at the Red Lion Inn, Stockbridge, Mass., and became ill there Wednesday morning. Physicians found that she was suffering from peritonitis and appendicitis and said an immediate operation was necessary. She insisted upon returning to Brooklyn for the operation and the trip was made the same day by automobile. Dr. H. E. Stockwell of Stockbridge, accompanying the patient.

They reached Brooklyn at 10 o'clock Wednesday night, but Mrs. Checks was so weak that the operation was not performed until Thursday morning.

PAGEANT ON NORTH SHORE.

"Little Boy Blue" Is Presented at Beverly Farms.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. BEVERLY, MASS., Sept. 2.—More than 200 young people from the North shore colonies took part this afternoon and evening in the presentation of the pageant, "Little Boy Blue," at the Mason and other estates at Beverly Farms, Mrs. Henry L. Massey was the chairman of the general committee in charge. There were many pretty dances.

Tea was served on the lawn in charge of Mrs. Nathaniel S. Simpkins who had as her helpers Misses Frances West, Frances Hutchison, Mabel and Harriet Rantoul, Gabriella Ladd, Grace Sargent, Jane and Eleanor Noble, Helene Ellsworth, Frances Desautels and Edith and Elizabeth Shober. In the evening after the pageant there was general dancing with music furnished by a band brought on from Boston for the event.

The annual costume ball at Hawthorne Inn, Gloucester, last evening was well attended and all of the colonies were well represented. Mrs. William K. Harcourt of New York directed the program.

MISS ELLISER CONTINUES ROLE.

Miss Ellie Elliser, who collapsed on the stage of the Morosco Theater during the second act of "The Bat" Friday night, recovered yesterday and insisted upon resuming her part for the final performance of the play last night. Friends urged her to remain away from the theater in view of the fact that she was to take the midnight train for Boston, where the play opens at the Wilbur Theater tomorrow, but she would not hear of being out of the cast for the final performance. Miss Elliser has participated in every performance during the two years and ten days run here.

SADA COWAN RETURNING.

Sada Cowan, the well known motion picture writer, after completing two scripts in Europe, has left Paris with her mother, Mrs. Reba Cowan, for French Indo-China and Japan, en route to California. Miss Cowan, who is said to be the first American to write for European directors, is returning home to write for a well known star.

TWO BRILLIANT BALLS GIVE CLIMAX TO NEWPORT SEASON

Mrs. Williams Burden.

Mr. and Mrs. John Aspegren
and Mr. and Mrs. Williams
Burden Entertain.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 2.—Two brilliant balls marked the climax of the season here to-night. Mr. and Mrs. Williams Burden gave the first large entertainment since moving into Oakwood, their new villa, and Mr. and Mrs. John Aspegren gave a notable ball at Aspen Hall for 400, preceded by a dinner for seventy-two guests. Mr. and Mrs. Burden dined at Mr. Clarence W. Dolan's before their party. There was an interchange of guests during the evening, many going from one party to the other.

Guests at Oakwood were: Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth Wickes, Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Burden, Mr. and Mrs. W. Goadby Loew, Mr. and Mrs. Peter W. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden H. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Norman, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fell, Mr. and Mrs. Beverley Bogert, Prince and Princess de Braganza, Mr. and Mrs. Herman P. Kountze, Mrs. Augustus F. Kountze, Mr. and Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Pauling Fostick, Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury Blair, Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Duke, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gerard, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fairfax Cary, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ridgeway. Also Mr. and Mrs. John C. Waterbury, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ogden Whitehouse, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harriman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bull, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Golet, Mr. and Mrs. T. Sufferer Teller, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Epley, Mr. and Mrs. William Payne Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lewis Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Biddle, Mr. and Mrs. George Eustis Corcoran, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtis James, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Duell, Mr. and Mrs. William Fahnestock, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Iselin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. P. Randolph.

Aspegren Hall, the former estate of Mrs. Mortimer Brooks, was transformed into a fairy palace for Mr. and Mrs. Aspegren's entertainment. Mr. Aspegren had his own power house erected for the occasion because the Newport station could not supply the current required for the lighting.

"Le Reve de la Marquise," an arrangement from Louis XV. dances to the strains of music by Mozart, opened the program in the beautiful ballroom. This selection was followed by character dances by Fokina and Fokine, respectively. After a short intermission the guests left the ballroom for outdoors, where the dance program was continued on the lawn.

For the dinner there were six tables of twelve each, making seventy-two guests. The decorations were unusual. The ceiling of the ball room was transformed into a floral forest of smilax with oak leaves and miniature electric lights. Columbia roses and blue hydrangeas were in hanging baskets. At the head table was a six foot horseshoe with blue and yellow ribbons, the horseshoe colors and dinner favors being of horse design.

Among Mr. and Mrs. Aspegren's guests at dinner and ball were Mrs. Vanderbilt, Miss Mabel Gerry, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Miss Julia Berwind, Mr. and Mrs. L. Sufferer Teller, Mrs. Daniel Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Betts Hillhouse, Mr. McDougall Hawkes, Mrs. Charles Frederic Hoffman, Miss Marion K. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Quentin Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav J. S. White and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Davis.
